

18

The cartilage on the ends of long bones serves which of the following functions?

- A. attaching the bones to muscles
- B. connecting the bones to other bones
- C. cushioning and resisting compression at joints
- D. forming and storing red blood cells for the body